Melbourne University Kwong Lee Dow Young Scholars' Program

Congratulations to Chelsea Conforto (10E) and Arian Ehssan (10E) who have both received the Kwong Lee Dow Young Scholars' Scholarship. The KLDYS Program is an academic enrichment program designed to support high-achieving Victorian school students. This prestigious program allows students to sample university life, develop leadership skills, access University of Melbourne resources and attend exclusive events. Moreover, provided they reach certain ATAR prerequisites, these students will be granted direct entry into The University of Melbourne upon successful completion of their VCE.

We would like to again congratulate Chelsea and Arian and wish them all the very best in their VCE journey and beyond.

Principal's Report

2015 has been an extremely busy year, filled with many rich learning opportunities. The college has placed great emphasis on ensuring that all aspects of student development have been incorporated in the school's programs and experiences. The academic program is supplemented with many different events and activities that help to develop our students culturally, socially and personally.

The Positive Education initiative, that was introduced last year, was further developed throughout 2015 with the aim of introducing students to many strategies that assist them in building their resilience and motivation and developing a positive mindset. These approaches will help to enhance students' academic performances as well as increase their wellbeing.

The Ace Program provided various challenges for high achieving students whilst the Hands on Learning Program met the needs of the students who are applied learners.

The extensive extra curricula program helped to engage students in their learning, by connecting them and the curriculum to the community and real world. Our students experienced learning in many different environments and contexts, exposing them to numerous special events and activities specifically designed to broaden their understandings and skills in ways that cannot always be achieved in classrooms.

Students across all year levels have enjoyed the many benefits that are gained from participating in camps. This year, for the first time at ESC, a group of committed and adventurous students have travelled to Cambodia to undertake a community project known as World Challenge. A lot of work was completed before hand to both raise funds as well as prepare for the many rigors and challenges involved. We look forward to hearing about their experiences and hope that this along with the biannual trip to Italy becomes an ongoing event.

There were many competitions and scholarship opportunities to which we exposed our students and these have encouraged them to raise their standards and compete with other students locally and nationally.

The Sports Program is an extremely important part of Epping SC, as a large number of our students are actively involved in sports teams, coaching and/or supporting the teams. Our sports teams trained hard and put 100% effort into every competition they entered. Overall they achieved great results and most importantly represented the college in a very fine and admirable manner.

The Music Concert and Art Exhibition once again provided opportunities for our arts and music students to shine and in addition to this helped create a sense of pride and achievement for the whole college to enjoy.

The many awards and certificates of achievement that were presented to students during the Awards Evening demonstrate clearly the efforts students have made to extend themselves and take up the challenges our programs have offered. I would like to thank the teachers across all year levels for their hard work and dedication that contributed to the development and growth of our students. Their team work and commitment has enabled us to provide teaching programs which are engaging, relevant and promote our college motto of "Learning For Life". Thank you also to our parents and families for the support and encouragement they give to their children and the school. Thank you to the school council for continuing to support the many improvements we are making to the physical environment as well as the learning programs. Last but not least, a big thank you to our wonderful students for their efforts and their contribution to making this a great school.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a very safe, enjoyable and rejuvenating holiday and may 2016 bring peace and fulfilment to all.

Ernst and Young Volunteers

Epping Secondary College has been very fortunate over the past 6 years to have developed a special partnership with the Australian Business Community Network (ABCN). Every year this organisation offers a number of our year 9 students mentors from the corporate world through the GOALS Program. It also organises teams of volunteers from different companies to come to the school and undertake school improvement works on a voluntary basis. This year we were privileged to have 17 employees from Ernst and Young spend a day at Epping SC and complete some much needed painting works and general beautification tasks. We thank them for their hard work and wish them all the best.

Gratitude Corner

Who is someone you admire and why?

Tijay Seears:
For writing me Edmodo messages in

Focus on Students

I am grateful for all of 8E and the amazing energy and enthusiasm they bring into their Drama class. I have never been more excited about the playbuilding process as with this class who are always willing to try new ideas, take risks and take responsibility for their own work. You are LITERALLY my sunshines!

I love walking into the Technology Area and hearing my students say good morning to me.

I enjoy making my students smile when they don't want to because they are having a bad day. Its a nice feeling!

Shrine of Remembrance

On Friday, 13th November, 9A and 9G visited the Shrine of Remembrance. The students learnt a lot about Australia's war history, the ANZACS and the bravery of the soldiers in World War 1 and World War 2. The students embraced this learning experience and were excellent ambassadors for our school.

November 2015

Year 8 Programs

Year 8s at Epping Secondary College are fortunate enough to have the opportunity to participate in a variety of programs that extend students in different areas.

Hands on Learning

Hands on Learning is a program at the college which provides students with the opportunity to gain some valuable skills and experience in the areas of building and construction, landscape gardening, mechanics and other trades. At the same time, students focus on personal growth. As the name suggests, the program caters to students who learn best with their hands. The students involved in Hands On Learning thoroughly enjoy the program and are able to contribute positively to the school community through the projects they undertake as a team.

Invigor8ing Education at ONTTC

Every Friday between 9am and 12pm, students attended ONTTC where they developed a variety of skills related to building and construction. In addition, students were able to begin working towards certificates and gain skills that would assist them with a number of career pathways. Students, involved in the program, were also provided with opportunities to develop their interpersonal skills and make connections with members of the community who in the future might assist with their chosen career pathway.

Invigor8ing Education at Mill Park YMCA

Similar to the boys program at ONTTC, a group of girls completed work experience in the gym, pool area, cafe, child care and offices at the Mill Park YMCA. This program allowed students to develop their capacity in a range of workplace skills including customer service, food safety and handling, first aid and professional conduct. The connections they were able to make with local community members proved to be extremely valuable in terms of potential job opportunities.

Work Readiness

The Work Readiness Program was also run by the YMCA and focused on building students' skills. Throughout the course students, who were put into groups according to their skills, organised fundraising events to raise money for the YMCA Open Doors Charity. Through this program they also completed a CPR course and a Food Handlers Certificate. One of the groups completed a fundraiser at the school, while the other groups participated in the YMCA's disability festival.

YMCA's Disability Festival

Mill Park Leisure Centre hosted a day celebrating the abilities of people with disabilities. The day was a celebration of diversity, abilities and understanding. One of our Year 12 students Carol Anne Freeling was volunteering and making a difference in our community. She was a testament to the values and attitudes we as a school try to instill in our students in her dedication to supporting this special day and the people it celebrates.

LOTE/Music Camp

This year's annual LOTE camp was held at a new location, the ACE Hi Ranch on the Mornington Peninsula. For three days, students were exposed to a range of language activities in Macedonian or Italian aimed at improving students' knowledge of the language and culture.

Students completed oral, aural and written activities in either Italian or Macedonian. They improved their oral communication skills and learned about Italian Renaissance Art. They also studied Italian advertisements and how they are a useful vehicle for understanding more about the Italian language and culture.

The camp also included some fun outdoor activities such as horse riding and a flying fox activity.

We would like to thank the students who embraced the opportunity to improve their knowledge of a second language. Choosing to attend a study camp that involves a second language takes dedication and commitment to taking on a challenge. We know that all of you will benefit from the skills you gained and developed over the three days and we hope that you took away with you some happy memories to store in your keepsake of adolescent experiences.

Until next year...arrivederci!

EAL English - 'KINDNESS'

Being kind is showing affection, love to those who need it most, to those who don't get enough of it or those who don't get any of it. Doing things, good deeds that you don't have to do or that you are not forced to do. You just do it because you want to because you want all those people and even animals to have what you have and to give them a glimpse of the good life, of the life that we get to have. To show them how it feels to be happy and how it feels to be able to cherish everything you have. To make them feel blessed.

We have to show kindness to the people who want to see the sun's rays instead of smoke when they look at the sky, to those who want to feel accepted, to those who want to feel like they have finally found a home they can to live in. To the people who want all those important everyday life improvements on their health care. To have a shower after a long tiring day, or those who want to have a satisfying meal that will make them feel full. To those who want to go to school and be educated and not work in dumpsters trying to find something to steal just so they can survive through the week. Those who don't have a shelter to live under or those poor children who don't have a mother or father figure. To those who still believe there is hope for them and that someone will help them. Those who believe that someone will finally realise that they don't want to just survive they want to live. To those who still fight for their lives even though deep down they know that they won't survive through this physical but mental as well war.

There are many ways to show kindness. One of them is to donate money to those who need it most. There are different organizations and charities all around the world that you can donate money to. There are charities for illnesses such as cancer or organizations to donate money to children in poor countries. Mark Twain once said that kindness is the language which the deaf can hear and the blind can see. Let's prove him wrong, if we all try and make kindness our daily habit then that could change the world.

Chrys Ioannou 8A

Kindness is people helping each other taking care of people in need and respecting the environment. I believe that to be nice to animals and help to fight against hunger all around the world is everyone's duty. People in this world want peace not wars, we all want to be happy and to live safely wherever we are. If I had a lot of money I would love to help people, give them shelter, food, clothing and anything they needed. However, there are many people who just waste money on nothing and think only about themselves. From all around the world, millions and millions of little children are dying because of hunger or because they live in unhealthy conditions. The world has to change some day because we are all humans and at the end we have to help each other and we need to live in a peaceful and a safe world.

Fatima

What is world kindness day:

World Kindness Day on 13th November, is a day celebrated all over the world where people kind to others. By saying being kind I mean they help the poor by giving them food or buy them new clothes or be kind to someone by giving them a nice compliment. It isn't hard to be kind to someone, in fact if everyone in the world was kind to another then there wouldn't be poor people or children dying from hunger.

Why we should be kind:

Doing something for someone else really does feel good because when we do something kind we feel better for putting a smile on someone's face. Also when you are being kind to someone there are other people who realise that you have just made someone happy which makes them want to do the same thing. Just the same as the saying "kindness bears wonderful fruit" which means that kindness gives us openness, health and reduces the effects of stress in our bodies and hearts.

How to be kind:

- Feeding a poor dog
- Giving food to the homeless
- Helping an old person cross the road
- Giving your clothes to someone that needs them
- Teaching children who can't afford to go to school
- Feeding animals that have no food
- Donate to a disaster fund
- Giving away your favourite thing or unwanted things
- Paying someone a compliment
- Asking someone if they need help

Who should we be kind to:

Choosing who we should be kind to isn't that hard because there are a lot of people to choose from. You can be nice to your parents, teachers, brothers, sisters and anyone that you want. If you want to do something really kind you can send clothes that you don't need any more to the poor people in Africa or donate money to people with cancer and many more. If you want to help then do it without anyone else's opinion.

CVA Gums Camp

Students from the year 9 CVA Community Elective class participated in the rigorous and challenging Adventurous Journey component of the Duke of Edinburgh course in the last week of October and the first week of November. This involved an arduous climb to the top of Andrews Hill in the Kinglake National Park as well as several other bushwalks in various parts of the park including the Mt Sugarloaf Track, The Masons Falls walk, a short walk to Wombelano Falls and a night walk using only the stars and moonlight for visibility. The unpredictable Melbourne climate came into play, presenting us with extremes of heat and torrential rain. Leeches, mosquitoes and blisters increased the discomfort levels but unperturbed, the students successfully completed the qualifying journey.

John Michaelides
Duke of Edinburgh Award Coordinator

Capital City Trail Walk

On 17th November, students from Mr. Biscaro's CSR elective and Mr. Michaelides' CVA elective undertook a 17.5 kilometre trek along the Capital City Trail. We began at Jolimont Station and journeyed through places such as Birrarung Marr, Southbank, the Immigration Bridge, Royal Park, the old Inner Circle railway line and the Merri Creek Trail. Most students couldn't believe that they could endure the journey in 35 degree heat but we all managed to complete the walk, a testimony to the fitness training they have been doing this semester, giving them all a great sense of achievement.

YEAR 10

Immigration Museum Excursion

This term as part of the Humanities curriculum all Year 10 students have been taking a closer look at the emergence of multicultural Australia. Students were invited to attend an excursion to the city to coincide with their studies.

The IMMIGRATION MUSEUM on Flinders Street was the main focus for the day. Here students were presented with real life stories, images and video footage of immigrants who moved to Australia. Students worked well as they interacted with displays and artworks.

We went to the Immigration Museum and learnt that the main reasons migrants came to Australia was due to conflict, freedom, famine, disaster and seeking a better life. A popular part of the excursion was when we walked through the 'Journeys of a Lifetime' exhibition. The long room had a giant ship in the middle of the exhibition and we were able to walk through and see how ships have developed over the years.

The Tribute Garden was beautiful to look at and we enjoyed reading some of the 7000 names of people who made the journey to Victoria. We found it interesting that these immigrants came from over 90 countries, from the 1800s to the present day.

Thank you to our teachers for taking time out of their busy schedules to take us to the city. Special thanks to our integration aids, Betty and Jodie and our teachers Mr Evans, Mr Michaelides, Ms Kanidiadis, Ms Yardas, Mr Hastie, Mr Hayman and Ms Basinski who attended on the day.

Music Concert

On Tuesday, 17th November, Epping Secondary College showcased the musical talents of many students from Year 7 to VCE. As an Instrumental Music Coordinator I have always believed in giving all our students an opportunity to appreciate the world of music making and creating. The evening concert was held at Epping Memorial Hall and certainly displayed the passion students deliver when playing music. Almost 150 people attended the evening which was a great success. The acts were many and varied and there were performances by both the Instrumental and classroom Music students across different year levels. Our hosts for the evening were our college captains Joe Ibrahim and Ayesha Ahmed who ran the evening in fine form indeed with memorable one liners. They have been a credit to the college and their efforts are to be congratulated.

This year's concert saw performers of a high caliber including violin solos by Hamed Madhavi and classical guitar works by Ardavan Ramiri and Oliver Chan which were amongst the many performances executed with gusto. Our bands included students directed by George Infanti who opened up the evening in electrifying fashion, followed by performances showcased by 7B 7D and 7F who delivered some funky grooves. We were also treated with some great vocal solos that certainly touched the hearts of many.

There is no doubt that the whole evening would not have been a success without the assistance of many staff on the evening. A huge thank you to Eric Ampem, Rosa Neri, Dina Evangelinou, Tina Guzzardi, Irene Laws, Lyndal Barry, George Infanti, Kirsty Letts, Samantha Holt, Peter Kaskamanidis, John Michaelides, Helene Alamides and Hans Mulholland. Their support on the evening was outstanding and I thank them immensely.

Finally congratulations to all students who performed on the evening, entertaining their families as they played songs from a range of genres from classical to jazz. The evening concluded with a big bang as our percussion students gave us an explosive rendition of "Percussion Persuasion" with the final bang of the evening snapping the legs of the floor tom leaving the night to finish on a high.

Sincere gratitude goes to our dedicated music staff George Infanti, Lyndal Barry and Kirsty Letts who dedicate so much of their time in preparing our students. Their energy is infectious and the college is very fortunate to have them. I also thank all our students and Music Captains who were a credit to the college. Well done to all!!

Yours musically
